Beast of the East III - 2010

La Ligue de Roller Derby de Montréal est très heureuse de vous présenter le tournoi "La Bête de l'Est III", la troisième édition du plus grand tournoi de roller derby au Canada. Cette année, vous aurez l'occasion de voir 15 équipes canadiennes et une américaine s'affronter pendant deux jours de parties courtes. L'an dernier, la Racaille de Montréal avait remporté le tournoi contre les Contrabanditas de Montréal dans une excitante finale. Pourront-elles répéter l'exploi à nouveau et garder le titre de Bête de l'Est?

The Montreal Roller Derby League is proud to present "Beast of the East III", the third edition of the largest roller derby tournament in Canada. This year, you will have the chance to see one American and 15 Canadian teams battle it out over two days of competition. Last year, Montreal's La Racaille won the championship game against Montreal's Les Contrabanditas. Will they be able to repeat this feat again and keep the title of Beast of the East for a second straight year?

The Rules of Roller Derby

The Game

Roller derby is a confrontation between two teams of five players each: four blockers and one jammer per team. The four blockers for each team, so eight in total, will form what we call 'the pack'. The jammers' goal will be to go through this pack, scoring one point per opponent they pass. The blockers' goal will be twofold: prevent the opposing jammer from passing and, secondly, help their own jammer getting through the pack. The team with the most points at the end of the game goes home with the honors!

The Bout

A game of roller derby consists of two periods of thirty minutes. These periods are subdivided in jams that may last up to two minutes. The teams have thirty seconds of rest between jams to substitute players and get back in formation.

The Jam

The first whistle blow from the officials will signal the pack to get in motion; the jammers will wait for the second whistle blow to start. On their first pass of the pack, the jammers will not score any points, but will instead be contending for the 'lead jammer' status. This status will be granted to the first jammer to go through the pack without committing any fouls. If both jammers should fail to do so, there will be no lead jammer. This special status of lead jammer gives the jammer the opportunity to call off the jam at any point by simply putting her hands on her hips. Once the title of lead jammer (or lack thereof) as been established, the jammers' only goal will be to score points, which they gain at a rhythm of one per opponent they pass.

The Penalties

Skaters can be given minor or major penalties, depending on the type of infraction. A major penalty results in the skater being removed from the game for a full minute of play, leaving their team to compete shorthanded. A minor penalty incurs no immediate adverse effect, but when given their fourth, the skater will have to head to the penalty box and sit out the next minute of play. If the jammer should be sent to the penalty box, her team will not be scoring any points for the next minute!

Les règlements du roller derby

Le jeu

Le roller derby est une confrontation entre deux équipes de cinq joueuses: quatre bloqueuses et une jammeuse (jammer). Les quatre bloqueuses de chaque équipe, donc huit au total, forment ce qu'on appelle le peloton (pack). Le but des jammeuses sera de traverser ce peloton, comptant ainsi un point pour chaque adversaire dépassée. Le rôle de la bloqueuse sera double: empêcher la jammeuse opposée de passer et, deuxièmement, aider celle de son équipe à traverser le peloton. L'équipe qui accumule le plus de points durant la partie remporte les honneurs!

La partie

Une partie de roller derby est constituée de deux périodes de trente minutes qui sont divisées en vagues pouvant durer jusqu'à deux minutes. Les équipes ont trente secondes de repos entre chaque vague pour modifier quelles joueuses sont en piste et se replacer en formation.

La vague

Le premier coup de sifflet des arbitres marque le départ des bloqueuses; les jammeuses attendront le deuxième coup de sifflet pour partir. Durant leur première traversée du peloton, les jammeuses ne compteront pas de points, mais se battront plutôt pour obtenir le statut de jammeuse de tête (ou lead jammer). Ce statut sera attribué à la première jammeuse qui réussira à traverser le peloton sans commettre de faute. Si les deux jammeuses ne réussissent pas, il n'y aura pas de jammeuse de tête. Ce statut spécial de jammeuse de tête permet à la jammeuse de mettre fin à une vague au moment de son choix en plaçant les mains sur les hanches. Une fois que la jammeuse de tête (ou son absence) a été annoncée, le seul but des jammeuses sera de compter des points qu'elles accumuleront au rythme d'un par adversaire dépassée.

Les pénalités

Les joueuses peuvent se voir attribuer des pénalités majeures ou mineures, en vertu de l'infraction commise. Les pénalités majeures forcent la patineuse à se retirer de la partie pour une minute de jeu, laissant son équipe en situation de désavantage numérique. Une pénalité mineure n'entraîne pas d'effet négatif immédiat, mais à la 4e infraction, la joueuse devra se rendre au banc des pénalités pour une minute de jeu. Si la jammeuse y est envoyée, son équipe ne pourra évidemment pas améliorer son pointage durant la prochaine minute!

Signaux & pénalités / Hand Signals & Penalties

Penalites majeures

Une pénalité majeure a un impact important sur la sécurité ou le jeu, et est signalée par un balaiment de l'index et un long coup de sifflet. La joueuse punie doit se rendre au banc des punitions immédiatement. Une pénalité majeure est le plus souvent attribuée pour un bloc illégal qui force une joueuse au sol, hors-limites ou hors de sa position dans le peloton. Elle est aussi donnée pour d'autres raisons, incluant: dépasser plusiers joueuses en étant hors-limites, conduite inappropriée ou pour une procédure illégale qui donne un avantage important à une équipe ou une joueuse.

Penalites mineures

Une pénalité mineure a un impact limité sur la sécurité ou le jeu. Lorsqu'une joueuse accumule sa quatrième, un balaiment à quatre doigts ainsi qu'un long coup de sifflet lui indiqueront de se rendre au banc des punitions immédiatement. Une pénalité mineure est le plus souvent attribuée pour un bloc illégal qui a un impact mineur, mais visible. Elle est aussi donnée pour d'autres raisons, incluant: dépasser une seule joueuse en étant hors-limites, patiner hors-limites ou pour une procédure illégale qui donne un avantage mineur à une équipe ou une joueuse.

Major Penalties

A major penalty has an important impact on safety or game play, and is signaled with an index sweep and single long whistle blow. The punished skater must go to the penalty box immediately. A major penalty is most often given for illegal blocks that force a skater down, out-of-bounds or out of position within the pack. It will also be given for other reasons, including: passing multiple players while out-of-bounds, misconduct or illegal procedure that give a team or player a substantial advantage.

Minor Penalties

A minor penalty has a small impact on safety or game play. On a player's fourth minor penalty, a four-finger sweep and single long whistle blow will signal the penalized skater to go to the penalty box immediately. A minor penalty is most often given for illegal blocks with a minor, but visible, impact. It will also be given for other reasons, including: passing a single player while out-of-bounds, skating out-of-bounds or illegal procedures that give a team or player a slight advantage.
